Vol. 80 No. 6 Wednesday, February 9, 1972 10¢

AN INTERESTING COincidence was revealed in a brief item in the "20-Years Ago" column of the Moville (Iowa) Record, the hometown newspaper of Holly Vollenweider, local realtor.

The item from the newspaper's files, the Dec. 13, 1951 issue, reported that H. A. Vollenweider had been elected vice-president of the Moville Commercial Club (the equivalent to this town's Chamber of Commerce).

In the Dec. 15, 1971 issue of The Campbell Press, in a news story concerning the 1972 election of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, it was reported that H.A. (Holly) Vollenweider, who had served as second vice-president of the CofC during the past year and was slated to move up to first vice-president in 1972 and to the presidency in 1973, had decided to step down because of the press of business.

Both items referred to the same Vollenweider.

SUBSEQUENT DEVELOPments in Moville, Iowa, where Holly was active in community affairs before moving to California, carried the coincidence one step farther.

Holly, who was slated to move up to the presidency of the Moville Commercial Club in 1952, had to refuse the honor.

He had been elected president of the school board in the meantime and he felt he couldn't swing both gavels.

No telling how involved Holly would have been in community activities in Moville, if the Vollenweiders had not moved to this area, where he soon took up where he had left off in Moville.

During the years Holly has been in this area, he has continued to take an enthusiastic interest in activities of his community and his profession.

He has served as president of the realty board for the San Jose area and has held numerous offices with the state organization.

He has been active in civic affairs as well.

One might say that Moville's loss has been this area's gain.

-0-

SPEAKING OF COINCIdences, the Vollenweiders just recently moved into the Paseo de Palomas, the modern and attractive mobile home park, off Union Ave.

Across-the-street neighbors, are Ed and Mary Fabbri, who early last fall took up residence in Paseo de Palomas.

The Fabbris had resided in Fremont for 18 years, and moved to the park after selling their home in that city.

Ed is manager of the Bank of America branches in Campbell.

He is also first vice-presi-of America branches in Campbell.

He is also first vice-president of the Campbell CofC.

Ed took Holly's place on the ladder at the Chamber of Commerce.

It will be easy now for Holly and Ed to compare notes.

-0-

EACH YEAR, AS YOU know, two individuals are singled out in the community for honors based on their achievements during the previous year.

The Chamber of Commerce names the citizen-of-the-year in a traditional ceremony at which the name of the person is not revealed until the annual installation dinner.

There are no age limitations on this award. Conceivably the honored party could be a teenager or a centurian.

Norm Paul was named citizen-of-the-year for 1971. Norm has just passed the half-century mark in age.

On the other hand, the Campbell JayCees select a young man of the year for their distinguished service

Four run for three seats on Campbell City Council

Four candidates will seek the three spots that are open on the Campbell City Council election on April 11 based on the nomination papers that were filed in the city clerk's office last Thursday by the deadline.

Two of the candidates are incumbents. Bill Smeed is seeking his third term while Dean Chamberlin is completing his first term.

Norm Paul, past president of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Planning Commission and who was named citizen-of-the-year and Rusty Hammer, 18, a student at Santa Clara University and a member of the Campbell Youth Advisory Commission since its inception, are the other candidates.

Campbell school district votes on tax hike Feb. 29

Members of the "Citizens for Campbell Elementary Schools" were stepping up their campaign this week for the February 29 tax increase election for the Campbell Union (elementary) School District.

On Tuesday, February 29, the electorate in the district will be asked to approve an increase of 50-cents to the present $2.55 rate per $100 assessed valuation.

Most of the home and school clubs, PTA units and teacher groups in the district have indicated to the board of trustees that they will support the tax increase.

In a letter to the trustees this week, with copies to the press, West Valley Federation of Teachers, an AFL-CIO union, submitted that "supposedly knowledgeable individuals" in the community were causing concern in the district by their criticisms of the district business manager via innuendos and the WVFT suggested that any charges should be made public.

Advocates of the tax increase maintain that the current tax rate of $2.55 will not permit the maintenance of the current standards.

If the tax rate increase is not approved by the voters on February 29, the district tax rate will revert to $1.80 on June 30, 1972, unless another election is held before that time.

COUNCIL SPEAKER--David Rosenthal, again a winner in the annual VFW speaking contest will address the Council next Monday, February 14. Rosenthal, who appeared before the Council last year also, will speak on "Voice of Democracy", the title of his winning talk in the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars speech contest.

CAMPBELL WINS

Campbell Fire Department has again won top honors in the annual contest sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association, it was reported this week.

Campbell won first place nationally in its population class (20,000 to 50,000) and second place for all cities in the state. Hayward was first.

Nationally, Providence, R.I. was first, with Hayward ninth just above Campbell.

Campbell has consistently been a winner over the years in the annual contest.

Vacancies exist on commissions

One of the two vacancies that presently exist on two of the city's advisory commissions may be filled next Monday night at the City Council meeting by the youngest citizen advisor in this city's history.

Doug Hebard, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hebard, of 205 Calado, Campbell, has been recommended by the Youth Advisory Commission to fill the vacancy that exists on that body.

The City Council is accepting applications now for the Planning Commission. The recent resignation of Ed Pack, a planning commissioner for the past six years, has left the open spot.

Councilmen have appealed to all interested citizens to file for the Planning Commission.

Council holds hearing Monday on 'south loop'

Recommended by the Planning Commission and the Downtown Revitalization Committee, the plan line for the proposed south loop street, approximately 300-feet off Campbell Ave. and extending from Third St. to Railway, will be before the City Council next Monday, Feb. 14.

The Council will hold a public hearing on the plan line, but if approved, any construction of the street will not take place until the north loop is developed.

At the present time, only that section of the north loop which extends from Central to First, built as part of the civic center project, has been undertaken.

The plan line for the south loop was drafted by the public works department. It envisions the acquisition of a number of parcels of property (as indicated on the drawing above).

At next Monday's meeting, the Council is also expected to approve the agreement with the Campbell Union (elementary) District for the construction of four neighborhood parks at Hazelwood, Forest Hill, Dover and Rolling Hills schools.

The City of Campbell has allocated $10,000 to each school from park bond funds approved in 1969. An additional $5000 may be available in federal funds for Hazelwood. Plans for the four parks have been approved by the trustees of the district. The school district will maintain the parks.

Three other Campbell district schools and one Moreland school are on the list for future allocations.

On the agenda also for the next Council meeting is a request by the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) that San Jose and Campbell establish a firm boundary agreement for areas not now within the limits of either city.

The Council is also expected to approve a special census to be taken by the State Finance Department to ascertain the current population. Such a census is taken periodically, as state subventions are allocated to the city on the basis of population.

Wally Byron, city building official, has estimated that Campbell has increased by 2352 since the last census. The cost for the census is about $300 but allocations from the state, if the increase holds, will be about $16,000.

An appeal from Clark and ReHorn from a Planning Commission denial is also on the agenda. Clark and ReHorn have applied to develop an industrial building at 1065 Florence Way into a recording studio catering to youth. The Planning Commission has rejected the proposal twice and the Youth Commission has also disapproved the proposal.

It's Amato time again

Second reading (adoption) of the controversial zone change ordinance affecting the 31-acre Amato property is scheduled for the Council meeting next Monday.

The Council continued action until after the Planning Commission public hearing (Tuesday) was held on the General Plan affecting the area.

At the first reading, the Council divided 3-2 on the ordinance which would allow a town house single-family development on the property now zoned R-1 (single-family).

Residents in the areas adjacent to the property have maintained that the property should remain R-1.

A number of alternatives are available to the Council next Monday including referral back to the Planning Commission for a review of any modifications to the original plan as presented by Dura Style Homes, headed by Mike Engdol.

WHILE WAITING FOR COUNTY APPROVAL

Campbell was slow to roll to fire two blocks away

Why the City of Campbell can't offer fire protection without delay to residents of "county islands," under the protection of Central Fire District, was partially revealed this week in a tape recording obtained through County Communications.

"Campbell is rolling to the structure fire-----"

That is what is reported in the concluding message appearing on a tape recording of almost all of the communications pertaining to a recent structural fire that virtually destroyed a house on Kenneth Ave.

But the tape also indicates why there was some delay in Campbell responding to the fire in the so-called "county island," approximately three blocks from the Campbell fire station on Sunnyoaks.

"Campbell is rolling" came near the end of the tape which recorded about five minutes of pertinent "conversation."

Some criticisms have arisen since the fire as to why there was any delay in Campbell rolling, inasmuch as Central (county) fire equipment had to travel a much longer distance to the fire.

Fire Chief George Maxwell explains that there is no mutual aid pact in existence with the county fire district as there is with the City of San Jose.

Chief Maxwell adds that, therefore, it has been an established policy, because of the legal ramifications, that the Campbell units, before rolling to fire in county areas, first must have authorization from the county district.

Authorization for the Campbell units to go to the fire was received, Chief Maxwell points out, but it took time, a precious commodity in fire fighting activities.

Coincidentally, a Campbell rescue unit, returning from a call, spotted the fire and went to the scene before returning to the Sunnyoaks station, but the unit had no equipment to fight the fire.

But the affirmative message came almost five minutes after the first contact was made.

The transcript of the tape that has been made available, begins with the Campbell rescue unit reporting they were on the scene:

RESCUE 25: "We are on a 9-04 on Kenneth Ave., 645, county jurisdiction. Rescue 25 is on the scene, smoke showing, Rescue 25, 10-97."

The tape then shows that Cambrian (Central Fire) had been notified and was responding with Squad 6, Tanker 5.

CAMPBELL: "Do you wish us to respond on this call? It looks like a worker from the station here."

County communications then contacted Battalion 3 (county) which reported that Squad 6, Tanker 5 was responding and then by phone contacted West Valley Station which indicated that the battalion chief was about ready to come on the air.

COUNTY COMMUNICATION: "Are you responding to Kenneth?

ANSWER: Affirmative.

The tape recording of the communications that took place as the Campbell department went "through channels" to get approval to make the three-block run shows that Campbell was already rolling when the message from Central Fire was received: "Affirmative, if you so desire."

COUNTY COMMUNICATIONS: Campbell inquiring. "It appears to be a worker. Do you wish them to respond?"

The tape then reveals that there was some discussion about the units responding and that Campbell could respond, but the administrative [illegible] it should be notified of Campbell's offer.

It also shows that Fire Chief Maxwell became slightly impatient at the delay.

CHIEF MAXWELL: "Control 2, Campbell. Does Central want us to respond on this 9-04 structure or not?"

COUNTY: "I will ascertain now. Campbell wants to know if they should respond to a structure on Kenneth off of Sunnyoaks? They have a rescue unit on the scene. Our units are responding. They advise it looks like a worker."

Battalion 1 suggested they check with administration.

COUNTY CHIEF: "Sure, if they want to respond."

COUNTY COMMUNICATIONS: "Very good, thank you."

Then to Campell: "Affirmative, if you so desire."

CAMPBELL: "Engine 23 (Campbell unit) just went 10-8."

COMMUNICATIONS TO CONTROL 23: "For your information, Campbell is rolling to the structure fire."

COUNTY COMMUNICATIONS: (All points information) "Central Fire and Campbell responding to a 9-04 structure at 645 Kenneth."

Council to greet bomberos

Firefighters from Mexico who will be training under the direction of the Campbell Fire Department for four days next week under the seventh Annual Fire Chief's Bombero program will be introduced to the City Council next Monday, February 14, by Dick Bosted, Campbell training officer.

Under the program, 100 firemen (bomberos) from Mexico will participate in training at four different fire departments on the peninsula. Campbell will train 25 each day in hose, nozzles and fitting practice and it will be this group of 25 who will be at the City Council meeting.

The Mexican contingent will arrive on Sunday. Four of the group will be housed at the Campbell station on Sunnyoaks during the four days. A banquet and a tour of San Francisco will climax the program. Fire Chief George Maxwell of Campbell is the coordinator of the banquet. The Peninsula Fire Chief's Association has financed the training program.

The bomberos will be welcomed at the Mountain View station upon their arrival on Sunday. Mountain View, Belmont and Half Moon Bay, along with Campbell, will offer the specific training.

REALLY FOR ME?--At age four, a valentine from a boy may have a "sweeter" meaning, and Erica Tveter, a student at Campbell Methodist Nursery School, is prepared to accept the offering from fellow classmate Michael Trauner. Unfortunately, this valentine was only borrowed from Aero Pharmacy for the picture, but maybe come St. Valentine's Day, Monday, Feb. 14, Michael will have his own valentine to give to Erica.

Editorial

Coordination is the word

At a recent study session with members of Youth Commission, Planning Commission, Parks and Recreation Commission and Citizens for Beautification and Senior Citizens participating with the city councilmen and city staff personnel, one underlying theme became apparent.

It was obvious that there is a definite need for better coordination among all civic groups in achieving the objectives of the community.

And this coordination is not limited to activities of the city.

As a case in point, members of the Youth Commission emphasized the need for a youth center in which the young people of the community could have their own recreational activities.

Spokesmen for the Parks and Recreation Commission submitted that there was a definite need for direction as to what type of recreational activities should be the province of the city.

The Parks and Recreation Commission wanted direction from the city as to how this recreational phase should be pursued. Perhaps another study or survey had to be made to find out which way to go, they suggested.

The point was made that there had been enough surveys taken in the past and the need now was to pinpoint just how to reach the objectives.

It was also pointed out that the Parks and Recreation Commission was the logical body to furnish the direction on recreational activities. After all "recreation" is part of the title of that advisory body.

In no way are we finding fault with the sincere efforts of the Youth Commission and the Parks and Recreation Commission.

The members of both bodies are rightfully concerned with problems and want to develop a better community.

Our point is simply that recreation and youth centers are part of the overall picture of a community and are not strictly a city affair.

For example, the school districts conduct a recreational program, particularly during the summer months. That should be considered, we feel, whenever any program is developed.

We recognize that the type of activity offered by the school districts may not be what the Parks and Recreation Commission members have in mind, or for that matter, the Youth Commission.

We agree that such school district-orientated activities may be more limited than what the commissioners have in mind.

But don't get us wrong.

If it is possible, the city should take a leading role in establishing ground rules for recreational activities within the city limits.

But, at the same time, it is important to recognize the entire spectrum.

For example, Mrs. Irma Reese, of the West Valley Progressive Seniors, emphasized at the same meeting that the "senior citizens" were disappointed that a community center was not a part of the plans for the development of the Rincon Park complex.

Mrs. Reese made the good point that the "seniors" as well as the "juniors" needed that type of facility.

We think this really emphasizes what we have been trying to tell you.

We all recognize that we can do better in giving the citizens of this community the best facilities and services that their tax dollar will buy.

But we think it should be understood that an effort should be made to utilize ALL the resources that are available that are underwritten by the tax dollar.

Obviously this brings us back to our original premise....the need for a coordinated effort to bring everything into focus.

We sincerely believe that a department or an individual could do much in the way of solving many of the problems by simply outlining the steps that are necessary to accomplish the objectives.

This is called coordination.

award. The guy has to be between the ages of 21 and 35.

Len Edholm was given the award by the JayCees for 1971. He will be 34 this year.

Recently Len and Norm were together at a function.

Someone called attention to the fact that it was quite a distinction to have both the "young man and the old man of the year" present at the same affair.

No names were mentioned.

It was sort of potluck, take your choice.

We think Norm preferred it left thataway.

SPEAKING OF AGES, (we were, weren't we), in the news story last week announcing that Rusty Hammer was filing for city council, Rusty's age was listed at 19.

That was jumping the gun a little. Rusty is 18 and won't be 19 until May 12. Rusty was born in Orleans, France, May 12, 1953.

We subtracted wrong and thus added a year unintentionally.

We doubt that Rusty really minded that we inadvertently added a year to his age.

In the later years, however, we have found that adding a year to a person's age is not a popular thing to do.

Subtraction, of course, is generally overlooked.

IT BECAME QUITE APparent last week that city councilmen and/or planning commissioners were persona non grata at a meeting that the residents objecting to the proposed site plan for the Amato property were having with the developer, Mike Engdol, of Dura Style Homes.

In fact, individual councilmen and planning commissioners were requested by phone by members of the residential group to stay away from the gathering.

The "un-invitation" was given politely but firmly.

In most instances we understand, the city officials did not know there was going to be a meeting in the first place. Few, if any, had given any thought about attending.

And none apparently had been invited to begin with.

So it was a rather unique approach.

Generally phone calls are used to invite people to meetings, not to "un-invite" 'em.

THIS HASN'T ANYthing to do with anything in particular but in a recent issue of "The Small Business Reporter" put out by the Bank of America, we noted that one out of every four service stations in the United States changes hands each year.

The report indicated that competition is a primary factor for this turnover, and that demands in a dealer's business skills, imagination and sheer endurance have never been greater.

Most of us who have seen gas stations crop up almost on every intersection have known that the stations changed hands pretty rapidly, but we did not realize that the percentage was one out of four.

That speaks pretty well then for the ability of many of the local operators who keep their joints going successfully.

The report reveals that there are about 19,000 stations in California. It further adds that while few drivers can differentiate between brands of gasoline, all notice the services offered by the man pumping gas.

It seems to us that same idea could be applied to all business.

YET ANOTHER ITEM caught our eye in passing.

A release form San Jose State revealed that the number of graduate degrees awarded by San Jose State in 1971 increased by about 25% over 1970.

A total of 1,014 master's degrees were awarded in 1971 compared to 822 granted in 1970.

The breakdown showed that there were 187 master's awarded in education, 98 in librarianship, 81 in business administration and 70 in psychology.

Other master's went to electrical engineering, 49; industrial studies, 42; art, 36; civil engineering, 267; English, 25.

It was also noted that four classified as "tiny programs" as to terms of budget and faculty, produced 113 degrees or about 10% of the 1,014.

These were librarianship, established in 1954, and three relatively new programs, Mexican-American studies, urban and regional planning and cybernetic systems.

"Cybernetic?"

We are glad you asked. We looked it up.

"...a study of human control functions and of mechanical and electric systems designed to replace them involving the application of statistical mechanics to communication engineering"....

Now you know, too.

Citizens have opportunity to meet with police

Persons interested in attending the "Public Relations Seminar" sponsored by the Campbell Police Department, should make application as soon as possible, according to Barbara Wineman, police department secretary.

The seminar, now in its fourth year, will be held Wednesday, Feb. 16 at 7 p.m. at the police department, 75 N. Central Ave., and will last three hours.

During the evening, officers will conduct discussions on traffic safety, drugs, emergency procedures, emergency equipment, communications, search and seizure, pressing day problems and campus disorders.

More than 2500 citizens have participated in the program, which includes the opportunity to sign up to ride in a patrol car for a three hour shift.

SDA church plans gain approval

Plans for the expansion of the Campbell Seventh Day Adventist Church facilities located at 600 W. Campbell and extending to Rincon Avenue were approved by the Planning Commission Monday night.

It was estimated the expansion will cost between $250,000 and $300,000 and will be constructed in two phases, Eugene Sample, pastor of the SDA church, told the Commission.

The Commission also approved two warehouses on Dillon Avenue. Clayton Thomas and Wesley Friezen got an okay at 145 Dillon as did Ed Anderson at 125 Dillon.

However, action on a third warehouse at 88 and 96 Dillon was continued until the next meeting to check out the parking. Plans were submitted by Leo Rotondo for Halverson Plastics.

Approval was also granted the landscape plans for the huge Federated Department Store furniture outlet to be located at 600 E. Hamilton, across from Breuner's.

Approved also was the application of California Savings for changes in a triplex moved recently to 910 Michael Drive and that of Frank Dorsa for changes in a car wash facility at 981 E. Hamilton.

Marshall Davis also was granted a one-year extension for the six-unit apartment planned at 1785 Hacienda.

The Commission approved a variance that was necessary for new canopies at the Phillips Petroleum station at Winchester and Hamilton but continued action on the canopy itself until the next meeting to allow for a landscaping plan to be submitted.

OPPOSES TAX HIKE

Dear Editor:

There isn't anyone who wouldn't want to see his or her child receive an excellent education. What it should cost for this education is the question in front of the Campbell Union School District voters.

To this end let us examine some of the facts. In the 1966-67 year when the current tax rate of $2.55 was established, the assessed valuation was $129.5 million which yielded a tax of $3.5 million.

In the 1971-72 year the assessed valuation was $187.1 million with taxes at $6.7 million or an increase of 88.6%. Other tax sources increased from $2.9 to $3.5 million. The net total increase in school district funds was 60%.

Where do these taxes go? Approximately 85% goes to salaries and benefits to teachers, administrators and staff.

Do we have more students? Is that why it's costing us more? The answer is negative. In 1966-67 the average daily attendance was 11,389. In 1969-70 it dropped to only 11,240 and is expected to be even less this year.

In 1971, new building permits in Campbell alone were $18 million, the highest ever. That means even greater taxes received. In 1966-67 the cost per average daily attendance was $510.69, which was 2% below the average area cost.

In three years the cost rose to $744.24 and this was 6% above the average area cost. The increase was 15% per year.

We all think the cost of living is increasing at a terrible rate but the cost of education for our children has increased at twice the cost of living index rate.

The proposed tax rate of $3.05 is based on no increase in assessed valuation which is obviously ridiculous.

Not only are salaries already higher than most salaried positions in industry but other benefits such as medical and full dental coverage are considerably better.

With the anticipated increase of 30% in assessed valuation over the next three years, if the tax rate is allowed to increase to $3.05 the tax received by the school district will increase by 50% over the 1971-72 funds received.

Though dropping the tax rate back to the base of $1.80 is desirable, it will actually require a tax rate of approximately $2.15 to provide adequate services.

Cougars Corner

by Alan Carmain

SOCCER ENDS IN TIE

Camden's Varsity Soccer squad was looking for another victory to add to their 4-2 league record, as the game against Branham last Tuesday, Feb. 1, began.

As the first period rolled by it left the Cougars lagging to the Bruins by a score of 0-1.

The first score in the second period began with a pushing call against Branham. The penalty kick was taken by Wes Toland to tie up the score, 1-1.

However, the Bruins rallied shortly after to take the lead once again, making the score 1-2, in favor of Branham at half time.

The Bruins again scored in the third period to make it a 1-3 game, giving Branham the advantage.

There was only the fourth quarter left to even up the two scores.

This was achieved first by an assist from Dennis Swan to Rick Dodge who put the soccer ball in to bring the once tied game, to a battle for the win.

The next goal was the most important one of the game. This goal was taken by Jim Yegge, getting an assist from Wes Toland which gave Camden's lagging score of 2-3 a boost, to tie the game 3-3, with only four seconds left in the game.

This resulted in two five-minute overtime periods. In this time Camden scored by a shot that was good from Rick Dodge who was helped by Glenn Anderson, which made the score 4-3 in favor of Camden.

However, Branham rallied once again to end the soccer battle in a tie game, 4-4.

As of this writing the battle between Branham and Camden put Camden into a tie for second place with Los Gatos, both teams having a 4-2-1 league record.

The Prospect Panthers are currently grasping first place with a 5-2 record. Camden's soccer team has only two games left to play, Blackford and Los Gatos. The Camden-Los Gatos battle will take place Thursday, Feb. 10,at 3 p.m, Camden High.

PLAGUED WITH LOSSES

Camden High's Varsity mat men wrestled to a close 22-23 match score two weeks ago, Jan. 28.

The meet was battled on home ground against the Saratoga Falcons. In this meet the Cougars were plagued with losses in 6 out of the 13 weight divisions.

Coming on strong in the few matches giving their utmost effort to pull out a win were Tino Rodriguze, Dan Durbin, and Jeff Cunningham.

Jeff's match put an exciting climax to the Varsity competition by pinning his opponent 30 seconds after the match began.

However, all of these outstanding efforts were pulled short with a very close match score and a victory for the Falcons.

The J.V. team did not have any luck that day either, which gave Saratoga the victories that day in wrestling.

The Varisty team rallied back though, for a 36-19 win over Del Mar last Tuesday, Feb. 1.

Scholarship honors his memory

The memory of Craig Chelonis, 18-year-old football player at West Valley College, who was killed in a traffic accident Dec. 27, will be honored by a scholarship recently established in his name.

Each fall, at the college's football sports banquet, a $250 Craig Chelonis Scholarship will be given to the most outstanding and deserving freshman football player.

Chelonis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Chelonis, 13131 Montrose St., Saratoga, attended Quito Elementary and Rolling Hills Junior High.

He was a 1971 graduate of Westmont High, where he was quarterback of the football team and starring pitcher on the baseball team.

While attending West Valley, he worked at Quito Food Center as a service clerk.

Over $1,000 donated by friends of the family, employees of Quito Food Center, and of Southern Pacific Railroad, where the elder Chelonis works, was given recently to the scholarship in West Valley College's Foundation.

HOOK-BALL -- Mike Pursey, No. 14, shows his technique in shooting for the hoop against the Saratoga Falcons, against whom he scored 16 points.

LADY LUCK WITH FALCONS

It appeared that Lady Luck was with the Saratoga Falcons once again as the Camden hoop men were downed Friday night, Jan. 28.

The Varsity was edged out of the game a little each quarter, as the Falcons edged a 13 point lead at the half, 22-35 over Camden.

Camden's Varsity squad seemed to have an all around problem, failing to have a scoring attack and to stop Saratoga from sinking their shots.

This resulted in a final score of 56-75 and a victory for Saratoga. Leading scorer for Camden was Mike Pursey, who scored a total of 16 points.

The J.V. team was also plagued that night with a score of 28-40 and another win for the Falcons.

Comments on the Arts

If you're bored and you want a little excitement in your life, drive over to the PruneYard Theaters and see "Dirty Harry" starring Clint Eastwood and "The Omega Man" starring Charlton Heston. I guarantee you won't be bored long!

While both of these movies are bloody and violent, the violence plays a very important part in their plots and both come off as very exciting entertainment, particularly "Dirty Harry."

At the beginning of "The Omega Man" we get the distinct impression that Colonel Neville (Charlton Heston) is the last man on earth. Everyone else has been killed by germ warfare.

Just as we are about to ask ourselves if we can take an hour and a half of Heston all by himself, acting out his Little Ceasar complex, we are made aware that he is far from being "The Omega Man" as the title suggests. There is a bunch of "mutants" who run around in black hoods, coming out at night to harass him.

They call themselves "The Family", but they don't claim to be members of the Mafia. (Those Mafia movies I reviewed last week must have gotten to me.)

There are also a couple of student activists and several kids who somehow managed to get a partial immunity to the germs. (Old Colonel Neville had the antidote, but only enough for him. He does make some feeble attempts to make some more, however.)

The mutants attempt to destroy the "normal" survivors because they are reminiscent of electronic circuitry and the people who brought about the destruction of the world in the first place. While the movie has a certain lack of imagination, it makes up for it with some exciting chase sequences.

If you see the movie, you'll want to read Richard Matheson's "I Am Legend," from which the film was scripted. Incidentally, Matheson's work is much better written than the film.

"Dirty Harry" is the REAL shocker! Clint Eastwood's taste for violence certainly shows in this one. But the violence isn't without purpose. Eastwood is a San Francisco police inspector (there is some terrific photography of the city) who always gets all the dangerous and dirty jobs. That's why they call him Dirty Harry.

Harry's primary foe is a psychotic killer who calls himself Scorpio. Scorpio writes a note to the San Francisco police and threatens to kill one citizen each day until he is paid $100,000. The events which follow the threat demonstrate that Scorpio has every intention to carrying it out.

The result is two of the finest character studies I've ever seen on film. The psychological and physical battles between Harry and Scorpio (Andy Robinson should get an Oscar for his portrayal) proceed at such a fast and brutal pace that your stomach churns right along with the action. The pacing of the film is such that you are breathlessly dragged along in the manhunt.

The film is a superior feat of movie-making and to reveal any more of the plot would be a mistake. The film is rated "R", but it leans more toward an "X" (because of the violence) in my opinion. The "Omega Man" is rated "GP" but it leans a little toward an "R" rating. Here I go rerating the ratings.

If you're a Clint Eastwood fan, by all means see "Dirty Harry." If you don't particularly like Charlton Heston, don't fret, he's not all that bad in "The Omega Man."

PruneYard Theater manager Bill Miller advises me that John Wayne's latest movie "The Cowboys" will begin an exclusive run at his theater on February 16. "Cowboys" has been enjoying a successful run at the Radio City Music Hall in New York for quite some time.

We'll have a review for you on February 23. Incidentally, this will be the first movie which Wayne has made (he's starred in over 150) where he gets killed. Now THERE'S a worthless bit of trivia for you to mull over until next week!

RUFFLED FEATHERS

I've overheard many comments recently concerning the new low-cost housing development being built on San Tomas Aquino Rd. Some of the questions raised were done in good faith. Some of them seemed petty and pious.

For those in the dark completely, low-cost housing is just that, housing that can be obtained at a low cost, to be available for those families whose names do not provide for decent housing from commercial housing facilities.

Most of the comments I have heard were not very fair, not very well thought out, and certainly, not very helpful. At the risk of sounding like a preacher, of which I am often accused, a house is just a house until it becomes a home.

A home is where people (homo sapiens, to be exact) come together to form a family. Not many of us would debate that the quality of family life varies greatly. And yet, when it comes to low-cost housing we seem, somehow, to find it easy to put the blinders on.

This ole world of ours has a great variety of people in it, and the variety is just as great at the top, (if you call upper-class or wealthy top), as it is at the bottom, (if you call low income bottom). Personally, either view is, in my book, extremely short-sighted.

Somehow, what we seem to believe doesn't always agree with the way we act. Low-cost housing is terrific, we say, as long as it isn't built near me. Now really, if we all say that, then where in the heck can this housing be built?

Come on, all you do-gooders and as-long-as'ers, a life is a life is a life and its about time we gave some sanctity to that life–to that fellow human over there–who, by the way, looks an awful lot like you.

If we spent as much time doing something worthwhile for others, as we do pre-judging others, just think of the energy we would have for truly worthwhile projects.

KID TALK

While a "slightly" messed up, unorganized house doesn't really compare to the Battle of the Little Big Horn, it sure can seem that way. It's absolutely amazing how far one spilt glass of milk can travel in ten short seconds, somewhere around two miles, if laid drip to drip in a straight line on the kitchen floor.

I'm not one to stress perfection when its unnecessary, but picking up and putting away one-thousand four-hundred and sixty-three miscellaneous items, every two weeks, on the average, can become a bit of a drag after a while.

Of course, five hundred and sixty-eight of these trivialities I find scattered around, belong to yours truly. I wish there wasn't a lesson to be learned from these observations, but I'm afraid there is.

A TOUCH OF THE LIGHT

Steven and Lois exchange promises

The strains of "Hawaiian Wedding" and "I Love You Truly" filled the First United Methodist Church when Lois Ann Henry and Steven A. DeVita exchanged nuptial vows.

Bud Hiler was the vocalist and Mrs. Barbara Gist the organist in the recent double-ring ceremony officiated by Reverend Ben Gould.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Henry of San Jose, carried a bouquet of white carnations.

She wore a full-skirted gown with cascading tiers of chantilly lace, cathedral train, fitted bodice, beaded sabrina nickline and ruffle-edged sleeves.

Peace roses and lace petals with pearl accents secured the triple-tiered finger-tip illusion veil.

Mrs. Scott D. Fox, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor in a long blue gown.

Attired in a similar gown was Cathy Briscoe, bridesmaid. Both attendants carried bouquets of blue and white carnations.

White gardenias adorned the white dress of the bride's mother and the gray dress of the groom's mother.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. DeVita, 430 Esther Ave., chose David J. Henry as best man and Scott D. Fox and Dana Matula as ushers.

After attending Campbell High, the groom was stationed as a U.S. army private in Germany.

The bride is a graduate of Campbell High.

After a reception in the church fellowship hall, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to Disneyland.

"Grampie" Havens is ninety

When you get to be 90 years young, not much surprises you. However, the daughter and son-in-law of Bertus G. Havens, Senior, succeeded in surprising him at a family birthday party recently at the Happy Steak Banquet Room in Campbell.

Havens, a resident of Campbell since the 1950's, was surrounded by children, grandchildren and great grandchildren at the celebration and was presented with birthday greetings from the White House signed by President Nixon.

Attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. James McGuffee, who planned the surprise; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Weber and children, Melanie, Marcia and Mark Weber, III; Mr. and Mrs. B.G. Havens, Jr. all of Campbell; From Ventura, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Havens and Matthew attended, and from San Bruno, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Havens and Todd and Kevin. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Havens and David of San Jose were present.

Unable to attend were Mrs. June McGuffee Henderson, her husband Harold and children Pandora and Jesse of Great Falls, Montana. Also unable to be present were Mark Weber, Jr., stationed with the Air Force at Williams A.F.B., Arizona and three sons and a daughter and their families of Hamilton, Ohio and vicinity.

A native of Ohio, Havens worked in the Ford Motor Plant in Hamilton, Ohio, from 1919 to 1941, put in a stint with the U.S. Eighth Calvary and later was a mounted policeman in Cheyenne, Wyo.

In March, 1941, he and his wife, who died in 1951, moved to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, where he ran the instrument shop at Kanoehe Naval Air Station during World War II. He was given the Civilian Meritorious Award for his service during that time.

Following his retirement from federal service, Havens outfitted his tiny English Austin for camping and set off on a three year tour of the country, starting in the state of Washington and ending in Key West, Florida.

A former deacon of the Assembly of God Church, Havens continues to be an active member of the church. He is also a member of the National Association of Federal Employees (NARFE) and attends their monthly meetings.

For many years Havens participated in clock and watch repairing with his son, Bertus, Jr., with whom he makes his home on Hedegard Ave.

In the past few years, he has enjoyed daily walks to the post office, visiting with merchants along the way.

Evenings, he enjoys watching television and keeps up on the news of the world.

Tape recordings and color movies were made at Havens' party and the evening was capped with a magic show by Joe Fleming.

"Grampie" Havens will enjoy an opportunity to relive the celebration of 90 active years.

Bud Butler, heads state association

George P. (Bud) Butler, president of the Campbell-based Butler Amusements was recently elected president of the California Carnival Assn., and his son, Earl (Butch) was elected to the post of secretary/treasurer.

Also elected to posts in the organization were Allen Alevy of Atlas Greater Shows, of Cypress, first vice-president and John Lopez, Porterville, of Western Pacific Shows, second vice-president. The election took place at the association meeting at the Disneyland Hotel.

The California Carnival Assn. was formed a year ago by the carnivals that appear at the state, county and district fairs in the state, and works closely with the California Division of Fairs and Expositions and the Western Fairs Assn.

According to Butler, ride safety and its accompanying insurance problems is of prime interest to the members of the association.

Butler also points out that The American Carnival is one of the few forms of entertainment left that is geared for the whole family regardless of the size of their pocketbook.

Butler Amusements is providing this entertainment for the people of Campbell this week at Campbell Center, Winchester at Latimer and next week in Kirkwood Village Shopping Center.

Volunteers aids implement elementary school programs

Volunteer parents have become an important part of the Campbell Union School District programs.

A training course, which parents take at their own expense, is offered by West Valley College.

The program trains "aides" to relieve the classroom teacher of some detail work, so he may devote full time and energy to his pupils.

Most school libraries are now open daily, staffed by volunteers. These volunteers check books in and out, sort and shelve books, assist students in use of library, and help make annual inventories.

During health testing and diagnostic screening periods, school nurses make use of volunteer parents, also.

Other services performed by these volunteers include assisting teachers with social and cultural activities in classrooms and chaperoning on field trips.

WEST INDIES
THE LOOK OF LATIN AM

SHARING---A volunteer parent shares his insect collection with sixth graders at Dover School.

BACK TO SCHOOL---Back to college so that they may "go back to school" as aides, are parents of C.U.S.D. children who volunteer to help in school programs.

SAFETY PAYS

Safety pays at the Good Samaritan Hospital where Robert K. Kirk, administrator, received a 66.8 per cent refund of the hospital's 1970 Workmen's Compensation premium because of a low accident record.

Kirk credited employees for the few accidents at the hospital, and cited the work of the hospital's safety committee, which meets monthly under chairmanship of Barbara Andrews, personnel officer.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

Saturday evening will be the All-Star game between the Southern California All-Stars and the Northern California All-Stars. So far we haven't heard who is on the SCDA team but our Nor-Cal team is potent.

Headed by singles champ Stan Brassey of San Rafael's Mayflower Inn, the team includes area darters Eric Branthwaite and Roy Haslam of Lancashire Lad I and the father and son team from Scarlet La Rue's I of Ben and Jim Macredes.

Southern Cal plays host this season with the match being held in the Culver City Women's Hall, 3835 Watseka Ave. in Culver City.

NORTH AMERICAN OPEN

The dates and purse for this year's North American Open Dart Tournament have just been announced. $6,000 is guaranteed this year, up $2,000 over last year, for the August 12 and 13 event.

No changes were made in the pay-off schedule for the singles competition but prize money in the doubles, five-man team and ladies events have been increased. The doubles and five-man team also will pay-off to more places than last year.

The singles champion still gets $1,000 for the win. The doubles winners will receive $800. The five-man team competition winners will receive $750 or $150 each, with the Ladies Champ taking home $200. Those that went to the N.A.O.D.T. last year all had a good time, even the losers.

OTHER MONEY TOURNAMENTS

The weekend following our All-Star match in Culver City, the Laguna Beach JayCees will sponsor the third annual Far West Shoot-Out. They have advertised $2,000 in prize money but Dick Metruen, president of SCDA has added up the pay-off schedule and says that it really totals $2,386.

First place in the singles gets $400 with the doubles taking $300. The ladies champ takes home $50. Their team competition is for a six-man team with first place money of $300.

On February 26 and 27 the action moves east to Cleveland where the Cleveland Darter Club is guaranteeing $2,300. Maximum purse could be $4,600 depending on the number of entries.

The pay-off schedule is based on the maximum, with $1,000 going to the singles champ. The doubles will take home $500 with the ladies champ getting $150. Their team event is for a four-man team with first place spoils of $400.

Two other events are known for the year but as yet no dates or purses have been announced. They are the Klondike Open in Edmonton B.C. and the U.S.D.A. Tournament which will probably be held in New York City.

TREAD LIGHTLY---Walking on water was a miracle centuries ago. Today it is an engineering feat.

Four West Valley College students received an assignment from Ted Geredes, engineering instructor to build something which would carry a 200 pound man across the Saratoga campus swimming pool at a cost of less than $25.

Dave Rhodes, West Valley freshman demonstrates the assignment's solution, "water shoes" made of plywood and fiberglass and built in the shape of three-foot boats.

It took four months to design the water shoes and 26 man hours to build them.

West Valley Colts slate meeting

Larry Mullins, president of West Valley Colt League, has announced an organizational meeting of the league for 15 and 16 year old boys who live within the WVAL high school area.

The meeting will be held on Monday, Feb. 14 at 7:30 p.m. at Rincon Park, Campbell.

Mullins stated that areas which fielded teams last year will require a $350 sponsor's fee by April 17.

Anyone wishing to enter another team into the league must submit this fee plus the cost of uniforms for the whole team on April 17, also. A representative must be present at this meeting if they are planning to join the league.
